Ugly Rumors—The President Refuses to Recognize Garland

CHICAGO Feb 10—An Inter Ocean Washington special says there is wide difference of opinion among [illegible] in regard to the President's [illegible] Arkansas [illegible] and there seems to be [illegible] less chance for any action being taken in the [illegible] than in the case of Kellogg in Louisiana. [illegible] of Brooks here represent the President as very clear and very positive in his views. They quote him as saying that he has information [illegible] general government fails to take notice of the methods by which the Garland resolution was adopted in Arkansas every other southern state now Republican will be revolutionized by legislature lately elected in the same manner as in Arkansas. They represent the President [illegible] will be brought about within twenty days, if unchecked by any action of [illegible] for the President has already refused to recognize Garland as Governor and has [illegible] to several expedients to [illegible] After various attempts he [illegible] a requisition of Governor on the Secretary [illegible] for the arms belonging to the State of Arkansas. WASHINGTON Feb 10.—In the House after the presentation of [illegible] committee reports, the passage of two or three unimportant bills and the [illegible] of others mostly of a private character the post office appropriation bill was taken up and considered in Committee of the whole.

In the House Myers introduced a bill supplementary to acts in relation to immigration Referred to Committee on foreign affairs The bill has reference especially to the Coolie trade. It provides that when immigrants have entered into a contract or agreement for a term of service within the United States either for labor or lewd and improper purposes such immigration shall not be deemed voluntary and the U. S. consul shall not deliver the required permit or certificate. It makes it a penal offense for Americans to be engaged in such trade, forbids importation of women for purposes of prostitution invalidates all contracts in relation thereto and makes importation or holding women for such purpose a felony punishable by fine and imprisonment. It also makes immigration of the following classes unlawful Persons who are undergoing sentence for felonies and crimes other than political or whose sentence have been remitted on account of their immigration and women imported for purposes of prostitution

Dawes, from the committee on ways and means, reported the new tariff bill and wished the bill made the special order in the House but Ward of Ill and Saylor of Ohio objected

Saylor said it was a proposition to kill the goose which laid the golden egg and he would throw every obstacle in its way

Randall said there was no disposition on his side of the House to interfere in the immediate consideration of a bill which was to raise revenue.

The bill was then referred to committee of the whole and made the special order for to-morrow

The House then went into committee of the whole on the postoffice appropriation bill The total amount appropriated by the bill is $37 525 361 of which amount $20 148,[illegible] it is estimated will be received from the revenues of the department

Tyner who had charge of the bill explained it. The expense of the department was [illegible] per cent less than last year while the annual increase of business is from 8 to 10 per cent

[illegible] moved to add to the item in the bill in regard to the inland mail transportation a proviso that no part of that money should be used to increase the compensation of railroad companies beyond the rate now received by them. Rejected [illegible] to 103

The proviso added to the item of $100 000 for advertising mail lettings requires the postmaster general to [illegible] advertisements of mail letting to be posted up conspicuously in each postoffice for 60 days.

[illegible] of New York member of the postal committee offered an amendment to fix the salaries of postmasters at New York $8,000 [illegible] Chicago and St Louis $6 000 each Brooklyn Baltimore Cincinnati and San Francisco $5 000

Cox offered an amendment to fix the salary of postmaster at New York at $10 000 but withdrew it saying it evidently couldn't pass.

Merriam offered an amendment forbidding any assessments for political purposes hereafter in post offices. Rejected on a point of order

Several members proposed to add their cities to the $6 000 list but all amendments were rejected as was then [illegible] original proposition only [illegible] voting for it. Several amendments were offered to appropriate money for the payment of claims of Southern contractors before the war all of which were ruled out on points of order

Smith of Ohio moved an amendment repealing the laws of 18[illegible] for additional mail steamships to Japan and China, annulling the contract made under it. Agreed to without discussion

Coburn moved an amendment for free carriage of public documents and seeds sent by members of Congress

Pending action the committee rose and the House took a recess till evening, the session to be for debate only

THE NEW REVENUE BILL.

WASHINGTON Feb 10—The following revenue bill was reported by Dawes to the House to-day

Be it enacted etc that after the date of the passage of this act there shall be levied and collected on all distilled spirits on which the tax prescribed by law shall not have been paid and whether said spirits shall then be in a distillery bonded warehouse or not, a tax of $1 on each proof gallon or wine gallon when below proof to be paid by the distiller owner or person having possession thereof before removal from the distillery bonded warehouse and so much of section 3 2[illegible] of the revised statutes of the United States as is inconsistent herewith is hereby repealed Provided that in addition to the tax of 70 cents per gallon imposed by law now existing there shall be levied and collected a tax of 15 cents being one half the increase of tax under this act on each and every proof gallon or wine gallon when below proof of domestic distilled spirits manufactured and placed in bonded warehouse prior to the day when this act shall take effect and held in bonded warehouse at that time and on all such spirits then held by distillers retailers or wholesale dealers having in their possession or under their control distilled spirits or stamped packages and any person who shall sell transfer or otherwise dispose of any such distilled spirits after this act takes effect, until an additional stamp to be especially printed for that purpose by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, denoting the payment of the additional tax of 15 cents per gallon herein imposed is purchased and attached to the packages containing the same, in such manner as the Commissioner of Internal Revenue shall prescribe shall be subject to pay a penalty of $1 for each and every gallon so removed and the spirits so removed shall be forfeited to the United States, And provided further that on all brandy gin rum and all compounds and preparations of which distilled spirits is the component part of chief value embracing all forms of distilled spirits imported from foreign countries on which the duty fixed in revised statutes is $2 per gallon the duty hereafter to be levied collected and paid shall be $2 50 per proof gallon

Section 2. That section 3 368 of the revised statutes be and the same are hereby amended by striking out the words twenty cents per pound and inserting in lieu thereof the words "twenty four cents per pound Provided That the increase of tax herein provided for shall not apply to tobacco on which the tax under the existing law shall have been paid when this act takes effect

Section 3. That so much of section 3 437 as imposed a stamp tax on friction matches lucifer matches, or other articles made in part of wood and used for like purposes, be and the same is hereby repealed to take effect on and after the 1st day of July 1875.

Section 4 That on all molasses not including tank bottoms syrup of sugar cane juice, melado or concentrated melado, and on sugars according to the Dutch standard in color, imported from foreign countries, there shall be levied collected and paid in addition to the duties now imposed in schedule G of section 2 504 of the revised statutes an amount equal to 25 per cent of the said duties, as levied upon the several grades therein designated

The 5th section repeals the 10 per cent reduction in tariff on certain articles enumerated in section 2 50[illegible] revised statutes The 6th section provides that the increase of duties shall not apply to goods in transit on shipboard on February 10th nor to goods in bond on that date

The committee yesterday agreed to favor the repeal of the bank check stamp law but this morning reconsidered their action

THE TILTON-BEECHER CASE.

NEW YORK, Feb 10—In the Beecher Tilton trial this morning Tilton resumed the stand Evarts produced a letter dated Jan 3 1869 which Tilton identified and corrected the date which should have been Jan 7 Evarts read the letter which was from Tilton to a friend in Connecticut explaining the charge of stopping at a hotel with a lady stating the lady who was a protege of his wife was staying at the same hotel and there being no fire in her room he had invited her to come to his where there was a stove where she sat by the fire and read to him while he lay on the bed

NEW YORK Feb 10—Witness continued The letter was written to Mr Hastings in reply to the inquiry Witness was then questioned at length in regard to the number and duration of his visits to Mrs Woodhull He spent a night at her house in September 1871 did not stay there the 3d or 4th of July, though he might have been there those days. Could not remember anything noteworthy occurring on those days could not say whether Mrs Tilton was then in the country but thought she was at Schoharie. never heard Woodhull speak of the scandalous story she published in the presence of any one, but Moulton Witness adopted the fac simile for the purpose of publishing the letters which appeared in the Graphic because he had been accused by Beecher's friends of forging some of the letters and he wanted to give the public an opportunity to judge of the matter Witness was questioned as to his acquaintance with Rev Gilbert Haven, now bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, and testified to intimacy with him and that Haven had been at his house probably a hundred times, though he could not remember any particular dates. Tilton was then questioned with reference to his wife's leaving his house and going to her mother's where she stayed about a week He sent for her one time from the office of the Brooklyn Union and she came to him She had their infant child with her when she left the house He did not remember sending for the child during her absence. The child was brought to his house however but who brought it there he did not know nor did he know that the child was taken in her absence She then returned to his house but he did not know whether she considered it her home A letter was shown to witness and identified as the one sent by him Evarts read the letter as follows

ELLEN Wrap the baby up carefully and bring him to my house immediately

(signed) THEODORE TILTON

Witness explained that "Ellen" was Ellen Dennis his housekeeper The child was then nearly 18 months old.

Witness was then read the questions asked him and the answers given before the investigating committee Some answers he recollected were incorrectly reported Witness was then asked in regard to his knowledge of phonography and replied that he studied it at school but never practiced it [illegible] and declined to say he was an expert. He testified to having taken copies of numerous letters involved in the case. He declared he never destroyed any of Beecher's letters from December 18[illegible], to the present time nor any of Moulton's during the same period neither had he destroyed any of his own or any papers relating to the subject.

The court took a recess

NEW YORK, Feb 10—After recess Tilton's cross-examination was resumed by Evarts who questioned him about the charge against him in the interview with Bowen and Oliver Johnson about something that occurred at North Point Minn., where he lectured He remembered nothing of such charge Being asked in regard to the kiss given him by Beecher at Moulton's when the latter was sick he said after a period of estrangement he and Beecher occasionally saluted each other with a kiss It was a notable event when it happened He didn't know how or where Beecher's so called letter of contrition received that name In his (witness') letter to Dr Bacon, he called it a letter of apology Witness was shown and identified the letter from Beecher to Mrs Tilton which as near as he could tell was written in the spring of 18[illegible]

Evarts read a letter telling Mrs Tilton that he (Beecher) was glad that Theodore had seen the dangerous pit which was open before them and expressed his [illegible] sorrow for the great wrong done her

Witness resumed This letter referred to the Woodhull [illegible] Witness was then asked in regard to certain statements he should have made to certain persons, none of which he could remember didn't remember saying his wife was pure as light but said You wouldn't believe me go to Beecher, he will tell you she is pure as gold Witness said the true story was in existence in December 1872, having been written by him about the last of that month The tripartite covenant was not published in the true story This paper to the best of my knowledge was destroyed I think by Mrs Tilton, but not by me nor by my desire It was a long time since I last saw this paper in existence I think about the spring of 18[illegible] I took this paper to several persons and left it with them for perusal showed it to George A Bell William Dewitt and I think to Mr Dinkley He also showed it to several other persons Did [illegible] it to Dr Storrs showed the manuscript [illegible] of it to Storrs Evarts objected to the latter and to the answer while Beach contended it should stand as it was given as an explanation. The court ordered it struck out He didn't show it to Janie B Mix, but showed him some loose sheets of the draft. Showed F B Carpenter the original manuscript Didn't show it to Redpath neither showed it to or left it with Thomas Kinsella or remembers showing it to Thomas C Clarke didn't show it to Alderman Whitney but did show him Beecher's letter of contrition. Showed the earlier draft of the paper the matter of which was the same as contained in the pamphlet to Dr Storrs and read him the whole of it He read the paper to Tracy in Moulton's study between Christmas and New Year or a little later Moulton wasn't present Adjourned

The object of the defense in introducing a letter written by Tilton directing that his child be brought from Mrs. Morse's to his house was to show that Mrs Tilton left her home to reside with her mother and that Tilton during the absence of his wife from the house of Mrs Morse sent for and procured the child to induce Mrs Tilton to return to her home.

THE FORTY FOURTH CONGRESS

Careful scrutiny of the list of Representatives elect to the Forty fourth Congress reveals but one Smith—a Georgia gentleman This is an unusually small representation in the House of a large family There is but one Jones also, Thomas L of Kentucky But the Williamses loom up There are no less than six of them Jerry of Alabama James, of Indiana and Alpheus, of Michigan—all Democrats, and William of Michigan Andrew of New York, and Charles of Wisconsin—all Republicans The Harrises come next three of them—Henry of Georgia and John of Virginia Democrats and Benjamin of Massachusetts a Republican All of the other members who are not single travel in couples There are two Woods—Fernando of New York, Democrat and Allen of Pennsylvania Republican Two Phillipses—John of Missouri Democrat and William of Kansas Republican Two Hamiltons—Andrew of Indiana and Robert of New Jersey both Democrats Two Caldwells—John of Alabama and William of Tennessee both Democrats Two Wallaces—John of Pennsylvania and Alexander of South Carolina both Republicans Two Wilsons—James of Iowa Republican and Benjamin of West Virginia a Democrat Two Burchards—Horatio of Illinois and Samuel, of Wisconsin the former a Republican, and the latter a Democrat Two Reillys—John and James, of Pennsylvania both Democrats and two Bagleys—John and George, of New York the first a Democrat and the second a Republican There are two Clarks with the same initials John B and both are Democrats one from Missouri and the other from Texas. Another variation is a similarity in peculiar given names and illustration of it being furnished in Scott Wike of Illinois and Scott Lord of New York who are both Democrats.

HOW TO ESTIMATE THE PROFITS OF A FARM.

The farmer lives in his own house The use of the house which he does not pay for is as much a part of his income as the money which a salaried man pays for rent is of his, and should be counted as such in an estimate of the profit of the farm All things produced on the farm and consumed on the farmer's table, including the vegetables from the garden, the eggs and milk used in cooking, are as much a part of his income as the money paid for such things out of his salary is of the salaried man If the farmer gives his wife and children a pleasant ride to town using his own horse and wagon, the value of their use is as the money the other man pays out of his salary for carriage hire of his The correct rule for estimating the income from a farm is substantially this Give credit for every article produced used or expended in any way whatever no matter how small in value as well as for the cash received for products sold and for increase in the value of farm property and charge against the farm for interest on capital invested and for all expenditures The farmer that will do this from year to year will not so much feel like complaining of the unprofitableness of farming as compared with other pursuits The fact is that not one in a hundred farmers take into consideration the luxury and comforts of fresh eggs butter, milk fruits etc that they would have to pay high prices for if they lived in towns or do without them —New England Homestead

PROPER WHEAT

This variety of wheat is attracting considerable interest on account of its early maturity great productiveness and the excellent quality of flour made from it Sonoma county claims the credit of growing the first of this wheat last season and according to the Sonoma Democrat Starr's mills of Vallejo use this wheat exclusively for flour shipped to the European market But we are assured by parties posted in the matter that this must be a mistake as there was supposed to be only 2 000 tons of this wheat produced in this State the past season One house in San Francisco purchased 300 tons for which extreme rates were given They payed $1 80 for the proper wheat, when they were buying common for $1 60 and choice club $1 53½ The same house also shipped 200 tons of this wheat on farmers account The demand for it was quite active What will be the result of its introduction in the English market remains to be seen, but favorable reports are expected from it Still it may possess all the qualities that we desire in wheat for home consumption and not meet with favor in England as their tastes differ somewhat from ours in regard to first-class flour

But whatever the reception of the proper wheat may be in England, it will undoubtedly become popular in this country for several reasons among the most prominent of which is its early maturity.—S F Rural Press

HOW MR LINCOLN FORGAVE HIM

An editor of a weekly paper published in a little village in Missouri called at the White House and was admitted to Mr Lincoln's presence. He told Mr Lincoln he was the man who first mentioned his name for the Presidency and pulling from his pocket an old, worn defaced copy of his paper, exhibited an item on the subject. Do you really think said Mr Lincoln that announcement was the occasion of my nomination Certainly, said the editor, the suggestion was so opportune that it was at once taken up by other papers and the result was your nomination and election

Ah! well said Mr Lincoln with a sigh and assuming a rather gloomy countenance I am glad to see you and know this but you will have to excuse me I am just going to the War Department to see Mr Stanton

Well said the editor I will walk over with you The President with that apt good nature so characteristic of him, took up his hat and said Come along

When they reached the door of the Secretary's office Mr Lincoln turned to his companion and said I shall have to see Mr Stanton alone and you must excuse me and taking him by the hand he continued Good bye I hope you will feel perfectly easy about having nominated me don't be troubled about it I forgive you —Washington Chronicle

THE OLD ADAM

[From the Davenport Gazette

Certain parties in this city have been enjoying a little incident that transpired in a meeting of the officials of an orthodox church that was held in this city one evening since the middle of December This deponent has not the privilege to enter into details, but the fact is the brethren had been considering a case or two of delinquencies that had been called to their notice a brother had been where he ought not to have been, and a sister or two had been present at a social circle the majority of the members of which danced in a quadrille or something of the quadrille degree of moral turpitude—and the brother in question had taken a partner in one set also Some other facts may have been considered in the rumored laxity of the parties under consideration but the seriousness of the charges was no deeper than the matter above cited—only this and nothing more

But it so happens that for several years one of the brethren—a good honest strict believer in the faith who is circumspect in all things —has had a habit of referring to St Paul as authority for all his decisions on [illegible] of [illegible] came [illegible] the council And on this occasion when announcing his vote as to the guilt of the parties charged, he opened his Testament and read from St Paul's writings to prove his pure, scriptural authority for his decisions One of the council, a straightforward, blunt man in his business relations—as many of our readers know—got tired of his reference to St Paul after his tenth infliction he wanted the proceedings to end so that he could go home, and his [illegible] had been voted down two or three times, and he was pretty mad So a question came up The simon pure brother's name was called Said he

Roared the impatient brother, his old Adam getting the best of him

Pastor and council jumped to their feet The profane brother kept his seat A second thought came to him said he I—I—I didn't mean that I—I—I meant Brother [illegible] be d—d!

The horror was still prevalent After a moment more the pastor advised that the meeting adjourn, and the advice was followed All the brethren left the room except the pastor and the blunt opponent of St Paul—and the result of the conference between the two has not been made known But it is certain that the profane brother is still a member of the church His friends of the council are very much afraid this story will get out on him though We trust not

GENERAL NOTES

William A Wallace the new Democratic Senator from Pennsylvania, is known in that State as "Coffee pot Wallace" He acquired this sobriquet some years ago, when as Chairman of the Democratic Central Committee he sent fraudulent naturalization papers to be used by the Democrats in a certain locality with directions that they be steeped in a coffee-pot before being exhibited in order to give them the appearance of age and genuineness

Postmaster general Jewell has earned the further adoration of the feminine clerk He gives the lady employes half an hour at noon to browse around either in the building or outside. This privilege has heretofore only been accorded to the male employes The female clerks are inherent grumblers, and this tub to the whale of their discontent will divert the dear things but temporarily Jewell will never fully please them till he pays them just as big salaries as those lazy men get and then agrees to marry the whole crowd —Letter to the Chicago Times

When Mrs Lander was playing "Cleopatra in Memphis the other night a lunatic mounted a chair and shouted "fire" The audience was instantly thrown into confusion. Mrs Landers was in one of her most intense passages but coming down to the footlights, said Ladies and Gentlemen—Please keep quiet and take your seats for I am confident there is no danger If there is any fire in the building it will soon be discovered and I wish to inform you that there are plenty of means of exit both from the stage and front of the house by which you can all escape If there is any danger I will share it with you but I am sure there is none The calm speech was received with cheers the audience resumed their seats, and the play went on

A SICILIAN GIRL'S REVENGE.—A singular story of jealousy and revenge comes from Sicily A beautiful young girl named Florina who was the belle of a traveling circus in which she figured as the lion tamer had been for some time receiving the attentions of an athlete belonging to the same troupe By some means she ascertained that he was not faithful to her but had another lady love No signs however of her painful discovery were allowed to escape. She still smiled sweetly upon him In her own bosom she planned the terrible revenge One evening when the performance had been unusually brilliant—after which Florina had whipped the lions and forced them to lie at her feet—she called her recreant lover aside and said to him Do you still love me? Always he answered Do you know that I should die if you should devote yourself to another woman? What an idea, responded the young man But I should first kill you said Florina And how would you do that? Thus cried the girl at the same instant pushing him violently into the cage of the lions They attacked the unfortunate man at once and tore him to pieces while Florina urged them on with blows of her whip

TESTIMONY NOT WANTED IN CONGRESS.—Donn Piatt may have another opportunity to tell the committee on ways and means what he don't know about the Pacific Mail subsidy This morning in his paper referring to the parable Sam Ward related to the committee he says Now Uncle Samuel knew that the exact amount used in this way was fifty two $1 000 bills. Now then for the hungry King of Spain lost in the woods read Stockwell of the Pacific Mail for the cook read Richard B Irwin and for the fifty two earless pigs read fifty two members of the House and the moral of the fable comes to the surface Taking eight of the committee into the gallery of the House the cook can count them out fifty two earless pigs—members of Congress less three left in the committee room —Washington Corr Chicago Tribune

A SINGULAR PIECE OF MERCHANDISE.—In a Paris shop window near the Boulevards is the following announcement A fine human skin taken off whole and tanned in that condition It is the skin of Aissa who was the most lovely of the slaves of the Emperor of Morocco She was only twenty when she died and her skin was milk white

LETTER FROM CORVALLIS

FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT

FARMING IN BENTON COUNTY—CORVALLIS SOCIALLY, INTELLECTUALLY AND MATERIALLY—AN EPIDEMIC FEVER—YAQUINA BAY AND THE PROPOSED NARROW GAUGE RAILWAY—PHILOMATH AND THE COLLEGE THERE

CORVALLIS Feb 10 1875

The weather continues very fine during the day dry and warm as much so as any ordinary spring day There is however, considerable frost every night There is still enough frost in the ground to prevent plowing Farmers, however are making ample preparations for active service in the field as soon as practicable

A trip to Corvallis on the steamer Willamette Chief is a very enjoyable one of these fine days. There is little or no cultivation on the banks of that part of the river but the river itself is attractive and particularly so when approaching Corvallis The Willamette Chief is one of the favorite boats on the river kept in excellent order, polite officers, and a well provided table supplied for travelers

CAPT J W SMITH AND MR A G TILTON C E,

Have got appointments as engineers in the service of Mr Harry Meiggs These are the two gentlemen distinguished for the construction of the canal and locks at the falls at Oregon City They will probably sail from Portland on the 16th inst and from San Francisco for Callao on the 23d Capt. Smith and Mr Tilton (son of Gen Tilton) have established for themselves a reputation in Oregon that will be highly appreciated and amply rewarded by such a man as Meiggs There is not in the United States or Europe an employer that appreciates capable and reliable men, or rewards such men more liberally than does Mr Meiggs He pays his chief engineer $25 000 a year, two assistants $12 000 his clerks $2 500, and others in proportion He treats them as gentlemen, are his frequent guests and as many of them as can be spared have invitations to his special entertainments These entertainments, given to distinguished visitors, are on a princely scale, and rival if not exceed, in grandeur entertainments given by monarchs By such means he secures the esteem and gratitude of his staff of officers and bends them to his interests with cords stronger than cables secures the success of all his gigantic railroad schemes and builds up a fortune for himself and his friends

CORVALLIS

Being the county seat secures for it many advantages It has a large rich agricultural district as a back-ground to support it. It enjoys the advantage of the Wallamet river for shipping Prior to the introduction of railroads into the State, Albany Corvallis and Eugene were on an equality in point of location and trade The building of the Oregon and California railroad gave Albany and Eugene considerable advantages over Corvallis in both respects, and stimulated enterprises that would not likely have been otherwise undertaken Corvallis has therefore scarcely holds its own during the last four years, but "there's a good time coming" and that time not far distant. In the meantime, the town can boast of good warehouses on the river, a number of excellent stores many comfortable cottages, two well sustained district schools, a prosperous college of 130 students, a few well attended churches, a large number of intelligent citizens and not a few ladies of culture and refinement. As an example of this latter it is worth noting

THE LADIES' MUSICAL SOCIETY OF CORVALLIS

It is one of great interest and a great source of intellectual and social enjoyment This society is presided over by Miss Hanna, and numbers 16 members All the members honorary and regular, were musical pupils of Miss Hanna. It meets once a fortnight in some of the parlors of the parents of the members The first hour is devoted to business, and conducted with efficiency dignity and grace. The second hour is employed in the practice of select pieces of music which shows what proficiency the members have made and are making in instrumental and vocal music, and how eminently qualified Miss Hanna is to instruct the members and preside at their meetings The remaining part of the evening is appropriated to social enjoyments of a most agreeable character Miss Hanna presides at the organ in the Rev Mr Dowling's church

There is an excellent brass band in the town composed of young men of decided musical talent.

The social and moral tone of society in their general features are good Being the county seat, there are some distinguished lawyers located here, and other professional gentlemen of note There are two weekly papers published that represent the literary character of the town and the political parties in the county

FEVER IN CORVALLIS

A good deal of sickness has prevailed in the town for [illegible] in the form of typhoid fever Only two have fallen victims to the disease The first was Mr J H Walker, a young man of great promise and although a comparative stranger, was highly esteemed among the [illegible]. The other was Miss Mary Stevens daughter of Mr Stevens, the hotel-keeper She was a ministering angel to Mr Walker who died a few weeks previous, and to three other patients who are now convalescent, and then laid down herself and died, after three weeks suffering All was done for her that attentive physicians and gentle nurses could do, but all in vain The Master called and she departed amidst the deep grief of parents and friends and the universal sorrow of the citizens. The Rev. Mr Babcock of Salem, came up preached the funeral sermon, conducted the funeral services of the Episcopal church at the home of the deceased and at the grave Although this young lady and her family only arrived a few months since from Wisconsin, yet she had taken a complete hold on the esteem and admiration of the leading people of the town The unusually large attendance of ladies and citizens at the funeral services and the general expressions of regret at her early decease gave striking evidences of what a favorite she was

THE NEW ENGLAND HOTEL OF CORVALLIS

Where the fever patients were so kindly ministered to is kept by Dr H W Vincent, and is a house where the traveling public will find a comfortable temporary home, an intelligent and genial family to associate with for the time being

The subject of deep interest at present to the people of Corvallis and Benton county generally, is the contemplated narrow gauge

RAILWAY FROM CORVALLIS TO YAQUINA BAY

This road when built will be about 60 miles long and will cost about $600 000 If the citizens of Benton county raise $150 000 a number of capitalists in San Francisco are pledged to subscribe the remainder of the money and build the road The directors here are taking active measures to raise the $150 000 of that amount $60 000 is already promised by reliable men—the balance will be subscribed in a few months. There is reasonable evidence that the building of the road will commence in the spring or early in the summer The object of asking $150 000 from the people of the county is to interest farmers and others in favor of supporting the road This money is to be returned in freights the tariff to be 25 per cent below any other route In shipping to California by this route it will save 100 miles from Corvallis

In shipping for Europe it will save 140 miles of inland carriage It will add 25 cents a bushel to the value of the wheat of Benton county or bring it within 10 cents of California prices These are statements that the next five years will realize Great results will follow. It will secure additional competition among the carrying trade, moderate freight charges increase rivalry among buyers, and additional remuneration to the farmers of the Wallamet valley When farmers are thus guaranteed fair prices by such general competition among buyers and shippers, the farmers of the valley will clear and cultivate three acres of land for every one at present and raise a corresponding quantity of wheat and other desirable crops The farmers of Oregon only want fair play and reasonable remuneration for their labor to be ranked among the most industrious enterprising comfortable and successful farmers in the United States These statements will be in practical operation within the next ten years If the west-side railroad is built in good time to Junction City the Wallamet river properly cleared, numerous boats built drawing light water and moderate rates charged for all freights and all the old tricks played upon the farmers at once and forever abolished and the modern discriminating railroad charges abandoned there will be plenty of wheat for all honorable shippers and honest carriers Then the pilot and tug boats on the Columbia river will pay proper attention to vessels arriving and departing, the terrors of the Columbia bar will vanish, the shipping and trade of Astoria and Portland will grow and multiply beyond all former expectations or calculations The bar of Yaquina Bay, like the Columbia bar, is elevated to great proportions, and magnified by the selfish, narrow minded so as to alarm the public against doing anything to promote the Corvallis and Yaquina Bay Railroad But all such alarms are in vain the road will be built and the results mentioned and many more realized. The bar is located between the two channels. The north channel has 24 feet of water at high tide, and 27 feet at spring tides. The south channel has 18 feet of water at high tide, and 22 or more feet at spring tides The large reef sketched forms a large cove of deep water, where large vessels can anchor and load with ease and perfect safety A few thousand dollars would remove the shelving rock that would allow sailing vessels to be handled with ease and safety A tug boat at the service of captains makes at the present time, the arrival and departure of vessels to and from the bay with perfect safety and vessels carrying 1,500 tons can come in, load and leave at pleasure during the high tide.

PHILOMATH

Is a small village at the foot of the celebrated mountain known as "Mary's Peak"—one of the high spurs of the Coast Range, and seven miles from Corvallis. The place derives its principal importance from the fact that it is the location of the college of the United Brethren This college is a brick building two stories high, has the requisite number of class rooms and a large common hall It is presided over by Prof [illegible] R. E. Williams, assisted by Professor Sheak and [illegible] competent teachers There are 100 students in attendance; [illegible] of them are known as advanced students, Four of them will graduate on the 23d of June The location of the college is beautiful, and the surrounding are grand. The institution is in a healthy condition, the discipline good and the progress of the students encouraging

WALKER'S PATENT ROLLING CARS.—Among other interesting engineering and mechanical novelties we find reference in the London Iron to what is called Walker's Patent Rolling Cars in which the wheels of an ordinary railroad track are replaced by cylinders, with wheel heads and which when combined in pairs, as ordinary car wheels, are drawn over the track As this constitutes practically one rolling body, a comparatively small engine is sufficient to convey the train The invention has been made, with special reference to the interest of India for carrying goods, coal, and even water over long distances through a thinly populated country at the least possible expense They are protected from the danger of fire and water and involve a minimum of dead weight.

A GREAT MAN DEAD.—On Wednesday morning Mr William Kupp aged [illegible] years, residing near Doughsville, and celebrated throughout that section for his remarkable weight, died suddenly He had been in good health and spirits on the day previous to his demise, and had retired at the usual hour In the morning early one of the family accidentally entered his room and approaching the bed found him lifeless Mr Kupp was a wonderfully framed man weighed 450 pounds and some idea of his immense size may be gathered from the fact that his right leg measured 20 inches around the calf He was about 5 feet 8 inches in height and was without doubt the heaviest man in the United States. He was said to have been a singularly handsome man and his unusual size did not seem to detract from his personal comeliness.—Reading (Pa.) Times

THAT "SUPPLEMENT"

A friend has handed us a copy of a curious and highly amusing document issued from the office of the Portland Bulletin, with the words "OREGON BULLETIN SUPPLEMENT" displayed in huge type across the top. This sheet is nearly one fourth the size of the DAILY OREGONIAN, and bears no date, and strongly resembles the wrappers of patent medicine bottles both in general appearance and contents. It is impossible to determine from an inspection of it what issue of the Bulletin it is intended to supplement, and equally impossible to discover in it any reason for its existence, except that it contains some matter which the owners of the ring paper would hardly like to have their general readers see. We venture the assertion that this supplement was not sent to all the subscribers of the Bulletin.

Just beneath the flaming head which certifies that the document is not the advertising wrapper of some quack nostrum but a "supplement" to the ring organ, is this request in the most urgent black letters "Read and Hand to your Neighbor." That is almost enough to convince one that it is a patent medicine circular notwithstanding the declaration just above that it is a Bulletin "supplement." But the curious reader presses on wondering what will be the next incongruity in the queer medley and finds himself face to face with a proclamation "To the Old Republicans Throughout Oregon," which opens with this startling paragraph:

> A great crisis has been suddenly forced upon the country by the renewed outbreak of the disloyal elements in the State of Louisiana. A great principle, the principle of personal liberty and equality before the law of all citizens of the republic is now menaced and put in peril by the late Southern slaveholders, who seek to regain through legislative usurpation violence and intimidation, what they lost by open rebellion.

All the proprieties—even of patent nostrum puffing—would be violated if this thrilling announcement were not followed with some wholesome advice as to the best way to escape the impending ruin, and as this proclamation is got up secundum artem in every respect the course of conduct necessary to save the Government from imminent shipwreck is pointed out in the next paragraph. The means of accomplishing this desired result are extremely simple, consisting solely in subscribing for the Bulletin. The insignificance of the means compared with the end may be a stumbling block to some whose memories turn fondly to Pharphar and Abana rivers of the East but the Portland Bulletin is the all-saving Jordan nevertheless, says the proclamation. The entire proclamation is double-leaded (which printers all know is intended to signify that it is immensely important) and it is signed "JOSEPH GASTON, EDITOR."

Some of our readers know who "Joseph Gaston, Editor" is, but lest there may be some who do not know, we take this occasion to say he is a gentleman who edited a Johnson organ at Salem during the spring, summer and fall of 1866, when the great fight occurred between the Republican Congress and Andrew Johnson, the apostate President. He bushwhacked for Andy till the bottom fell out of Johnson and the Salem organ simultaneously. There are some additional facts in our possession relative to his career as a Johnson man, which we may mention at a future time, but not at present. With the end of Johnson's administration this gentleman disappeared from the political firmament, to reappear no more till the spring of 1874—one year ago—when he wrote and had published in the Farmer and Statesman a stirring appeal to the people of Oregon to throw off their allegiance to the old parties and put up an independent State ticket, to run against both Republicans and Democrats. In this appeal he arraigned the Republican party as well as the Democratic, for their corruption and unfaithfulness, in a way that made the Independents feel good to the ends of their toes. In fact, he did yeoman service for the Independents all through the last campaign in this State, albeit he is said to have been secretly in the councils of the ring all the while, giving them such information as he could give—honorably—of the Independents' plans. With these few explanatory facts our readers will be able to understand with what candor, nay with what terrible earnestness, he closes his proclamation in this "supplement" with this declaration of the policy of the Bulletin, "so long as I control it":

> It will not favor or approve of the nomination or election by the party or the appointment by the President of any man to any office who is not a consistent Republican, a good citizen, and an honest capable and faithful man.

That is good, especially that part about "consistent Republicans."

But let not our readers suppose "Joseph Gaston, editor," is thus doubling on himself willingly. He is not that sort of a person. He has a good and valid excuse for his course. He has been in the employ of Mr. Holladay, the owner of the Bulletin ever since June, 1870, not in the capacity of editor, but in connection with railway enterprises. During that time the Bulletin has been a burden on the "old man," and at last his affairs came to such a pass he determined to discharge the editor who had to be paid and detail for that service a person who had to be paid on other accounts. We must admit that the change from the collector of customs was for the better.

To come back from the man to the "supplement," it is enough to say that after the proclamation there is nothing but a repetition of such pleasant, courteous language as "unprincipled rascal," "traitor," "secesh," "copperhead" and the like with connectives explaining that these epithets were applicable to the OREGONIAN, some parallel columns said to be intended to show how like an old fashioned rebel paper the OREGONIAN is but which would generally be taken to show how unlike it is to such papers, and lastly several declarations that the Bulletin is going to stick to the Republican party through thick and thin, and some other declarations that the Bulletin does not care a continental for the Republican party and will not support the party unless its own purposes are served by so doing. Much good may the ring organ get from this nondescript combination of falsehood and fury which was sent out to certain particular persons with instructions "not to show it to any but the right kind."

It appears quite probable at the present time that the Tilton-Beecher case will never be decided in the human courts. The generation now on the stage of action is likely to pass away before Theodore get done testifying, and all the jury that hears his testimony will never hear that of Beecher. And then in view of the well known garrulous proclivities of the great preacher it is reasonable to say he will wear out another generation if he himself survives the present one. The other witnesses may as well be put into their little beds at once as they have not an earthly chance of being heard.

We give our readers this morning the full text of Dawes' new revenue bill, telegraphed specially to the OREGONIAN. It proposes many important modifications of the existing law in relation to duties and will be of great interest to the mercantile portion of the community.

THE CONGRESSIONAL CENTENNIAL COMMITTEE AT PHILADELPHIA

VISIT TO THE GROUNDS IN FAIRMOUNT PARK AND INSPECTION OF THE BUILDINGS UNDER ERECTION

[New York Times.]

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 23.—The House centennial committee arrived here this morning from Washington for the purpose of inspecting the plans of the exhibition buildings and the progress made in their construction. The committee met the officers of the centennial commission at their rooms, where the work of preparation was fully explained, and a straight statement made of the present financial condition and future prospects of the enterprise. Ex-Gov. Bigler, of the financial board, stated to the committee that no fears were entertained that sufficient means would be subscribed to complete all the buildings and carry out all the details contemplated for the successful inauguration and carrying on of the exhibition, but there were certain specific things that the national Government should do in order to give a national character to the exhibition. It was peculiarly the duty of the Government to provide the means necessary to furnish premiums for exhibitors. Unless this be done the exhibition will have no character abroad, because any award given by an association or corporation would fail to have that value with foreign contributors that attaches to an award by the Government. The President of the United States by direction of Congress, has invited the nations of the world to participate, and it therefore becomes the duty of Congress to distribute awards to those competing. The sum necessary for the purpose would not exceed five hundred thousand dollars which will include expenses of the international jury. By law Congress created a national board of commissioners, composed of one member from each State and Territory, who are to serve without compensation. It was unjust to expect these officers to perform the duty imposed upon them, and require them to pay their own expenses. Gov. Bigler contended that the Government should pay the necessary expenses incurred by these officers in attending to their duties. This much was due to the honor of the Government. The Government should also furnish a guard, in order to guarantee the safety of the articles on exhibition, many of which will be of great value. This could be done at comparatively small expense by authorizing the President to detail a regiment of troops to Philadelphia during the continuance of the exhibition. The stock certificates issued to subscribers should also be provided by the Government. The United States requires these certificates to be engraved and printed at the Bureau of Engraving at Washington. It is a very expensive certificate and the committee was prevented from taking advantage of competition in its engraving. The designs had to be submitted to the Treasury Department for approval, and yet the commission was required to advance the cost before the work would be commenced. The same is true of the silver medals which had to be paid for in advance. Gen. Hawley stated that the government would require more room for the exhibition of articles from the several departments than could be spared, and it would be advisable to direct the attention of Congress to the importance of erecting a separate building for that display. From the Patent office models of machinery would be selected, marking the various stages of progress; from the Treasury coins and various issues of paper currency; from the War and Navy departments guns and projectiles. The Land office has sufficient materials to make an exhibition of itself. The character of our lands, capacity of soil and nature of climate would be of utmost value to people interested in immigration as well as advantageous to manufacturers. The Indian department might have several lodges of Indians with their weapons of war and of the chase. This and more was contemplated by the government departments, and he believed that Congress should appropriate the means to erect a building in which a suitable exhibition might be made. If it was not done these departments would have to reduce the amount of space now asked for.

After examining the building plans the committee were escorted to the Centennial grounds and inspected the preparations now in progress. The art building is well under way and the material for the others is mostly on the ground. All the buildings will be delivered by the contractor before the 1st of January next.

THE PATRONS OF OREGON AND THEIR REPRESENTATIVES.

[San Francisco Rural Press Jan 23d.]

We had the pleasure of several interviews with Daniel Clark, master of the State Grange of Oregon, while stopping a few days in this city the past week on his way to attend the meeting of the National Grange at Charleston, South Carolina. We have given sketches of several of our representative California Patrons and doubt not our readers would also like to know more of the man who stands at the head of the order in Oregon. Bro. Clark is a native of Missouri and, we should suppose, not far from fifty years of age. He was formerly sheriff of Marion county, Oregon, was one of the first to take an active part in the organization of the Patrons of Husbandry in Oregon, was elected the first master of the State Grange and represented that body at the National Grange, which met at St. Louis one year ago. He was unanimously elected to the same office in September last and left this city on Monday of this week to again represent his adopted State at the meeting of the National Grange in Charleston and on business matters at other places.

Bro. Clark has devoted much time and personal attention to the organization and building up of the Order in various parts of Oregon, and it is no doubt largely due to his efforts that constant success has attended the Order. Oregon now numbers 243 granges to California's 232. By the vigilance of Bro. Clark and his leading associates the disaster consequent upon the failure of Morgan's Sons fell lightly upon the farmers of Oregon. From all we can learn the business and commercial relations of the State Grange of Oregon have been established upon a basis from which substantial results are already being realized, while the promise for the future is even still more flattering.

Sister Katie Clark accompanies her husband on his present journey. That she has a goodly share of the energy and fortitude of our representative pioneer ladies it is only necessary to state that she goes with her youngest child—Daniel Gargetson Clark—an infant of 17 months. The interest she manifests in the good of the Order to undertake a journey of 3,000 miles in mid winter presents a noble example to her sister patrons throughout the Union. She will be the first matron representative for the Pacific coast to the National Grange. We bespeak for our brother and sister a pleasant journey and safe return.

A BUSINESS TRANSACTION.—A man went into a clothing store in Lawrence, Mass., the other day and bought a hat for $5. He left his old one, and said he would pay for it when he came back. In half an hour he returned, and entering the store met the proprietor, who was absent at his first visit. The proprietor was glad to see the man—a neighbor of his—but observing his new hat a shadow passed over his face, and he said, "Where did you buy that hat? I can sell you a hat just like that and a good deal cheaper than what you paid for it, I know." This pleased the neighbor and his eye twinkling he asked how cheap he would sell him one. "Well, you are a neighbor of mine, and you shall have one for just $1.75." "Very well," replied the customer, "I'll take this one I have on, which I got here half an hour ago, and just returned to pay for," and he counted out $1.75, and departed for his suburban home, satisfied at his bargain.

Portland, Feb. 11, 1875.

[ADVERTISEMENT.]

To the People of Dalles City, Oregon

At a special meeting of Jackson Engine Company No. 1 held February 4, 1875, the following resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, The members of the Jackson Engine Company No. 1 of the Dalles City Fire Department, are in possession of authentic information from the Governor of the state that House Bill No. 49 introduced into the last Legislature, amending the City Charter of Dalles City so as to allow the City Council to levy a four mill tax for the benefit of the Fire Department, failed to become a law in consequence of the same not having been presented to the presiding officers of the last Legislature for their signatures; and

WHEREAS, The City Council of Dalles City being specially prohibited from levying any tax for the benefit of the Fire Department of this city, and the failure of said bill to become a law granting said authority to the City Council leaves the Fire Department and its important interests in a very inefficient condition; and

WHEREAS, The Mayor and Common Council of Dalles City and a very large majority of the residents and tax payers of said city petitioned to the Legislature for the passage of said House Bill No. 49 containing the amendment above referred to; and

WHEREAS, The Wasco county delegation to the Legislature, consisting of Elisha Barnes, Robert Mays and E. B. Dufur, were earnestly requested to use all honorable means to secure the enactment of the same;

THEREFORE, In view of the foregoing facts the members of Jackson Engine Company No. 1 and the members of the Dalles City Fire Department do hereby adopt the following resolutions, to wit:

Resolved, First, That the members of the Dalles City Fire Department sincerely regret the defeat of said House Bill No. 49 and attribute the same to the Senator and Representatives and other parties from Wasco county.

Resolved, Second, That we hereby express as the sense of this Department that said House Bill No. 49 was either defeated through the culpable negligence and inattention of the Wasco county delegation in the last Legislature, or else they were willingly influenced by a few interested or paid parties residing in Wasco county.

Resolved, That we hereby most emphatically denounce the conduct of Elisha Barnes, Robert Mays and E. B. Dufur, the Senator and Representatives from Wasco county in said Legislature and the interested persons who aided and assisted in the defeat of said House Bill No. 49, and that we consider them and all of them in the particulars above referred to as utterly unworthy of the confidence of this Department or of the people of Wasco county now or hereafter.

Resolved, Fourth, That by the treacherous means of an individual at present unknown to us the above result was obtained, and whoever that individual may be we found the same as an unmitigated scoundrel and public enemy.

O. S. SAVAGE,
F. SCHUTZ,
S. KLEIN,
Committee

On motion the above resolutions were ordered to be printed in the Dalles Mountaineer and Portland OREGONIAN. S. KLEIN, Secretary.

A [illegible] PRESCRIPTION.—About [illegible] o'clock on Tuesday morning a man called at one of the drug stores of the city and presenting a prescription asked to have it filled. As the young man who was attending the store at the time took the paper and started away with it the man asked how much it would cost to get the prescription filled. Giving the [illegible] a casual glance, the clerk replied that it would cost the sum of half a dollar. Seemingly [illegible] with the price the man bade the clerk compound the medicine. When the young [illegible] came to look more carefully at the ingredients mentioned in the prescription he was greatly astonished to find that they would produce a virulent poison when compounded and the quantity called for would be quite sufficient to destroy the lives of more than twenty men. So he told the man the character of the prescription who as it may well be supposed was much frightened. He stated that the medicine was not for himself, but for another person—a [illegible] who lives near Oswego. The prescription was not written as is usually the case and signed by some responsible physician but was printed. When asked where he had obtained it, the man said the prescription came from New York in the form of a circular. The circular was signed by a reverend [illegible] body who gave as references the names of a [illegible] of prominent gentlemen all of whom bore testimony to the efficacy of the [illegible]. The man also stated that a number of similar circulars had been received by his [illegible] and neighbors. Being wholly ignorant of drugs he had supposed that the [illegible] given in the circular was of a harmless nature. This [illegible] to be a new [illegible] practice, and one which ought to [illegible] with the severest punishment at the hands of the law. Had not the clerk been [illegible] and experienced fatal consequences would doubtless have resulted. It is [illegible] to add that the man did not have that [illegible] filled. We publish this so as to place all druggists on their guard and also as a warning to credulous persons everywhere who are foolish enough to place confidence in any of the advertised patent nostrums which are so frequently met with.

TRINITY CHURCH.—It is with pleasure we announce the near approach to completion of [illegible] church, which so narrowly escaped total destruction on the 26th of last [illegible]. All the carpenter work is finished and [illegible] remains to be done, but furnishing the interior. Several persons are now [illegible] putting down the carpet on the floor of the auditorium and the altar. Placing in and arranging the seats will next follow. It is [illegible] calculation to have the church [illegible] divine service in by one week from next Sunday. In point of commodiousness, comfort and elegance of finish the church [illegible] to what it was previous to the fire. Mr. [illegible] L. DeFrans, who has had the sole [illegible] of rebuilding the magnificent organ which sustained considerable damage [illegible] the water, has been indefatigable in his efforts to place the instrument in position again. He has taken the delicate and complicated instrument to pieces, carefully examined [illegible], and repaired whatever damage it [illegible]. After more than two months' hard labor, he has at last succeeded in putting the organ [illegible] and placing it in position. The [illegible] has been thoroughly tested and it is found that the superb quality of the tone is not in the [illegible] impaired and it has been pronounced by competent judges to be in all respects as perfect in sweetness and powerful in volume as when first set up. By Saturday the organ will be finished and ready to send forth its [illegible].

PASSENGERS.—The following passengers took their departure on the steamer Oriflamme which sailed for San Francisco last evening: J M Ogle, wife and two children, Alex C [illegible] and boy, W T Patterson wife and two children, E H Tayler, P J Toole, George Chase, H A Chadwick, Mrs Dodge, Mrs C [illegible], Mrs. Cahill and infant, Mrs Wil[illegible], Mrs. Pyle and infant, O Wilder, Dr Thompson, wife, child and servant, Mrs C. [illegible], Mrs. K M Hopkinson, Miss H [illegible], O L Barber, M W Fechheimer [illegible], James Friedman, Fred Hill [illegible], John Hughes wife and child [illegible] and brother, Isaac W Smith [illegible], W Smith, Samuel Bass, C [illegible] Smith, G J Wolfer, W Dim[illegible], H C Owen, J N Bellinger [illegible], wife and child, J B [illegible] W Scott, J T Scott, Miss [illegible], Chas Burckhardt, C P Ba[illegible], C W Craig, E C Lord, W [illegible], M C Tilford, T Dattenhoefer, J D [illegible], J Orr, D H Allen, C Meyner, J [illegible], P A Frank, Thos Fitch, Rev J B [illegible], Lee Hou, Wee Kun, Mr Dilling [illegible] wife, Edward Becker, W H Wat[illegible], Wells, Fargo & Co's messenger, and [illegible] in the steerage.

C[illegible] MISSION SCHOOL.—We understand [illegible] of success, quite as unexpected as it is gratifying, has attended the opening [illegible] thus far of this school in [illegible]. A visit to the Mission school will [illegible] one for the time and trouble expended. The attendance is very flattering, and the attention to books and interest manifested in the various exercises by the pupils are [illegible]. So intent are the pupils in the acquisition of our language, that should a visitor enter the room, they will [illegible] lift their heads from their books or pay any attention to what may be transpiring about them. The teachers are much liked by [illegible], if the [illegible] manner in which they are treated can be regarded as an evidence. The singing and other exercises are [illegible] to the patience and [illegible] of the persons who are instructing them.

WATER MAIN BURST.—Yesterday morning a [illegible] on Market between Third and Fourth streets, burst, owing to the freezing of the water. The pipe was uncovered, the [illegible] having been removed from around it [illegible] gentleman living in a house near by received a thorough drenching. The [illegible] struck his house with such force as to [illegible] in the roof, thereby admitting the water [illegible]. He rushed around in [illegible] trying to discover the cause. [illegible] we learn that the gentleman has [illegible] quite sick, but of course the bursting of the main, the scare and ducking which [illegible], had nothing whatever to do with it. The ruptured main has been repaired.

FOR THE SUFFERERS.—Wells, Fargo & Co [illegible] three boxes of clothing yesterday to the [illegible] at Lincoln, Nebraska. These goods [illegible] through the instrumentality of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Theilsen. So far the call for aid for the Kansas and Nebraska sufferers has not been responded to by our citizens [illegible] of the above and in a few other [illegible]. The company will forward free, [illegible] of clothing money or other necessaries and it is hoped the next shipment will show more generosity upon the part of our [illegible]. Act in the matter now.

CAPTURED.—Mr W H Watkinds received a telegram yesterday from the marshal of Seattle to the effect that Val Howe an escaped convict, had been captured. Howe made his escape from the penitentiary last fall while out burning brick. He was sentenced to the penitentiary from Jackson county for robbing a safe in Jacksonville. When Howe made his escape he had eighteen months yet to serve. He will be brought over in a few days and handed over to the warden to serve out the full measure of the sentence.

A GOOD JOKE.—A story is told of a young man well known in this city. At a certain hotel, one night recently he knocked at the door of one of the rooms. Man appears leaving wife wrapped in slumber. Young man [illegible] appears followed by irate husband. [illegible] man disappears under bed in an unoccupied room and remains there four hours and finally emerges in a condition that would warrant one in believing that he had been in the Polar regions. Evidences of a put up job on the young man.

FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—Mr W H Watkinds took the steamer last evening for San Francisco. He goes for two reasons: first to secure [illegible] treatment for his daughter, and [illegible] to bring back Wm Burst who escaped about the same time the celebrated Shultz did. This Burst is now serving a term in San Quentin, and his term is about to expire and he will be brought back to serve the remainder of his time here.

DYING CONDITION.—Information was received yesterday afternoon that John Spencer [illegible] who [illegible] the fire last [illegible] while in a state of intoxication in his cabin two miles southwest of this city was in a dying condition. He was burned in the most horrible manner from the knee on the right leg to the waist, the flesh being literally cooked and falling away in chunks. Along on the side the flesh has fallen away until several of the ribs are visible. Everything which could possibly be done for the miserable man was done but to no avail. Long ere the present writing he is doubtless dead.

CITY TRAIN.—Yesterday afternoon just as the westside train was starting southward and had crossed the bridge which spans Couch's lake the locomotive collided with a dog which seemed disposed to dispute the right of way. One of the iron ponies struck the animal about midship and in less time than we write this obituary that dog was sent where all the good dogs go and the body reduced to first class sausage meat. All that was worth saving was the dollar which the owner loosened from the animal's neck with a sorrowful hand and carried away.

HOUSE MOVING.—The old house which is being moved to Salmon street has attracted a number of spectators ever since it started. Yesterday a large crowd of persons were gazing at it. An iron dog which had been driven into the sidewalk to hold a rope in its proper place becoming unloosened was jerked from the sidewalk clear across the street nearly striking a man who was passing. It slipped from position two or three times. A new capstan has been substituted for the old one, the danger in moving is thereby lessened.

DEATH OF MRS COLE.—This morning we are called upon to make the sad announcement of the death of the wife of Hon Geo F Cole, Postmaster in this city who departed this life yesterday afternoon at the residence of the family after a short illness. A very large circle of friends and acquaintances whose esteem she enjoyed in life will unite with the stricken husband in sincere grief for his loss. The funeral will take place to-morrow from the family residence.

HEAVY CONTRACT.—The O S N Co have the contract for carrying down the river the following quantities of wheat and flour: 800 tons for the Parsee, 2 000 tons for the [illegible] Troop, 600 tons for the [illegible]. Early this morning the Emma Hayward will proceed down the river with 250 tons of flour for the Parsee. Already 1 500 tons have been carried down by the O S N Co's boats for the [illegible] Troop.

NEW BOARD.—This evening the new board of delegates of the Portland fire department will meet at 8 30 o clock. A full attendance is desired as the object of the meeting is to effect an organization. The meeting will be held in the police court room.

EXAMINATION.—The examination of A class of the Grammar department for admission to the High school will take place at the Central school building at 9 o clock A M. All pupils desiring admission should apply before 9 o clock.

DEFERRED.—The literary meeting with readings from Scott which was to be held this evening at the Unitarian chapel is postponed until next week in consequence of the sudden death of an esteemed member Mrs Geo E Cole.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The Oriflamme was the first steamer that has left this port for a month past.

We regret to state that the amiable and accomplished wife of Rev T L Eliot is quite ill.

The Dalles mail arrived last evening and will leave at 4 this afternoon. Get your letters in by 3.30.

Six persons attached themselves to the church on Tuesday evening at the Taylor street M E church.

Rev R Bently, the pastor of the Taylor street church will be absent from the city during the latter part of the present week.

An order has recently been issued by the War Department changing the name of Fort Cape Disappointment to that of Fort Canby.

A neat and showy sign has just been finished for the Oregon Trust Investment Company. It is painted on the large pane of glass in front of the office.

In a book to be found in the Portland Library these names occur: De Witt Clinton Jones to William Jones. It was written during the Revolutionary War.

A wag at our elbow asks what can be more useful (?) and ornamental than a nice hand some chain hanging from a vest pocket not attached to a watch. There are several young men about the city who seem to believe in it.

Nothing is more thoroughly enjoyed by the average hoodlum than stealing fire crackers from Chinamen and to hold them in the hand while they pop fizz and burn. A number of urchins were engaged in the interesting sport last evening.

WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE CONVENTION.

Second Day's Proceedings.

MORNING SESSION

The association was called to order at 10.30 A M by the President, Mrs J DeVore Johnson.

The minutes of session of last evening were read and approved.

A motion was made and carried that Mrs A M Martin president of the Yamhill County Woman Suffrage Association be invited to address the meeting. That lady responded and was followed by Mrs A J Duniway of Portland.

Mr Gray of Albany offered some valuable suggestions as to the best means of securing the objects of the convention.

The subject of the laws of Oregon relating to women, was taken up and discussed at some length, Mrs Coburn, Mrs Briggs, Dr Thompson and others participating in the discussion.

A motion was made that a committee be appointed to wait upon the court now in session to invite the judges and lawyers there in attendance to be present at the session Thursday evening to discuss the laws of Oregon relating to women.

The constitution and by-laws were read for information.

On motion Mrs Duniway and Mrs Briggs were added to the committee on programme.

The committee on resolutions was requested to report at the evening session.

On motion the association adjourned until 2 P M.

Afternoon Session

The association was called to order by the president Mrs J DeVore Johnson at 2 P M.

The recording secretary Miss Ella Scott being absent Mrs Olive McCord of Clackamas was appointed secretary pro tem.

The roll of members was called.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The association then proceeded to the election of a treasurer. Mrs R G Combs and B C Duniway were placed in nomination.

Mr Buckman and Mrs M J Gaston were appointed tellers.

On the first ballot the vote stood Mrs R G Combs 10 votes, B C Duniway 1 vote. So Mrs Combs was declared elected treasurer.

For corresponding secretary Mrs C A Coburn was nominated and under a suspension of the rules was unanimously elected.

The following vice-presidents were then elected under the suspension of the rules: Baker county, J W Wheeler; Benton, F A Chenoweth; Clackamas, —; Clatsop, Mrs Mary Shane Smith; Columbia, Mrs R F Geltner; Coos and Curry, Mrs M J Hockersmith; Douglas, —; Grant, Col O B Curry; Jackson, Mrs W J Plymale; Josephine, Mrs Mary Jordan; Lane, J W Jackson; Linn, Mrs Esper; Marion, Mrs Belle W Cook; Multnomah, C Buckman; Polk, Laban Case; Tillamook, Mrs J A Corwin; Umatilla, R Layton; Union, J Hendershott; Wasco, James Fulton Sr; Washington, A Lewelling; Yamhill, Mrs H M Loughery.

On motion the election of vice presidents for Clackamas and Douglas counties was postponed until the forenoon session on Thursday.

The association then proceeded to the election of delegates to the State Temperance Alliance. Mrs Elizabeth Johnson, Mrs A J Duniway, Dr Thompson and W Carey Johnson were chosen as such delegates, the rules being suspended. Alternate delegates were chosen as follows: B C Duniway, A H Buckman, C A Reed and Mrs Belle W Cook.

The association then proceeded to the election of an executive committee of three members. Mrs S M McCown, B C Duniway and W Carey Johnson were chosen.

ESSAYS, ETC

Mrs. Olive McCord of Clackamas county then read a lengthy essay upon the subject "Ignorance, Prejudice, and their Legitimate Results," bringing out some ideas which were really good and worthy serious consideration. Her language was also well chosen and would have produced a very favorable impression upon her auditors had she not read so rapidly that many of her best sentences could not be distinctly understood. She writes clearly and shows a good understanding of her subject.

The committee appointed to visit the court and invite the judges and attorneys to address the association reported that they had performed their duty. The report was accepted.

The committee on programme announced the speakers and essayists for the evening session and the association adjourned until 7 o clock P M.

Evening Session.

Meeting was called to order at 7 30 P M, the president in the chair.

Minutes of the afternoon session read and approved.

The executive committee submitted an elaborate report of the work and plans of the association for the past year. The report was on motion adopted.

The committee on resolutions submitted the following:

WHEREAS, Political power has and still does rest solely with our legislative bodies who are supposed to represent the sentiments of their constituents and

WHEREAS, It has seemed to those who are interested in the accomplishment of woman suffrage as a necessity of vital importance that an appeal to those bodies is the only means of obtaining the desired result, therefore be it

Resolved, By this association, that woman suffragists should continue as heretofore, to appeal to those to whom the making of the laws are intrusted as the only potent means in their power for the accomplishment of the cause they so earnestly represent, hoping for a favorable decision, feeling assured that the men composing the legislative assemblies will not long be blind to their own interests by closing the doors of justice against one-half of the citizens of this State.

Resolved, That the thanks of this association are due and are hereby tendered to the members of our recent legislative assembly who so ably and earnestly advocated our cause in the face of ridicule and opposition, thereby rendering their names illustrious in the annals of the State as fearless champions of political equality.

Resolved, That the thanks of this association are hereby gratefully tendered to the press of this city for the impartial reports given of the proceedings of this convention.

Resolved, That the thanks of this association are due to the faithful few who have so earnestly and fearlessly labored in the cause of woman's enfranchisement during the sessions of this convention.

Resolutions were on motion adopted.

Mr Geo P Riley addressed the meeting a pointed and telling speech of ten minutes duration. Mrs A J Duniway followed for half an hour presenting many arguments in favor of political equality for women.

Rev T L Eliot upon invitation made a few remarks in which he reviewed in an able and interesting manner the advancement that women have made in education in the past few years.

Rev Mr Pierce defined his position on the question declaring himself a suffragist conscientiously, practically and Biblically and giving a synopsis of the practical workings of woman suffrage in Wyoming from his own personal observation.

Miss Clara Duniway read a poem which was well rendered and well received after which the meeting adjourned to meet at half past ten on Thursday.

The sessions of the Woman Suffrage Association continue to increase in attendance and interest. A discussion upon the laws of the State as they appertain to the rights of property and protection with respect to woman will be on the programme this evening in which the brightest talent will participate. Speeches under five minutes rule will be in order.

Music, recitations and short speeches will be furnished.

The public are cordially invited.

In order to fill up his stock Mr JOSEPH LOHN will leave shortly for San Francisco for the purpose of making a personal selection of Spring Goods. A CONVICT'S LETTER.

The following letter was written by Jas D Brown who it will be remembered, made his escape from the penitentiary about two weeks since, but who was subsequently captured at Comstock's. The letter was penned just previous to the escape. It reads as follows:

To W H Watkinds, Esq: It is with a deep sense of regret that I now make an effort to regain sweet liberty but betimes my heart throbs with joy at the glorious vision. I feel sorry in one sense and glad in another and my leaving the State should be hailed with delight as I appear to the public eye less than a cipher. Were my case viewed with the eye of discretion it would excite the compassion of all those who possess a pure heart. Imagine a young man incarcerated for a term of five years for a trivial offense without any prospects of regaining his release except serving his full time. Were I to relate the direct and indirect causes that brought me here and could convince you of the truth of them and also know the pure sentiments I bear to my fellow man there would be an effort made to obtain a pardon. But alas! I have none to whom I can impart my thoughts and believe them as I utter them. I therefore seek to conceal them within the recesses of my own bosom and fight my own battles. There is no mistake about it my punishment exceeds the offense. One two or three years at the very most would have been a just and severe sentence but when I think of five—a life time—and all my prospects in the future blasted I feel as if I could overturn the building. I have nothing to live for in this State and why should I submit passively to an unjust punishment. Without money and friends and comparatively a stranger I have no hope. You must not imagine that I am bent on a life of plunder and dishonesty. Far from it. What I utterly despise. I intend to lead a peaceable and as quiet a life as any citizen can do. I can obtain as good wages on the outside as an average tradesman and were I not completely demoralized before I was convicted of this crime I would never have been so mean.

The only man I have [illegible] [illegible] I shall make it the [illegible] he ever borrowed from a prisoner and cheated him out of if ever I meet him. He is so mean that he would rob the chemise from his mother on a frosty night.

A Prevalent Disease.
There is no disease so prevalent in America as dyspepsia and certainly none which has so generally baffled and defeated the skill of the medical profession. The only remedy for this distressing complaint is a pure medicated stimulant [illegible] Hostetter's Stomach Bitters whose essential principle is sound rye, is admitted by medical practitioners to be the only alterative corrective and restorative on which they can rely. The Bitters are the best possible specific for flatulency, dizziness, water brash, irregularity of the bowels and all indications of confirmed dyspepsia. They do not excite but sooth the irritated stomach and bowels and may be taken by persons of the most delicate and sensitive organization who are unpleasantly affected by the use of the ordinary stimulants of commerce. Though their effect is most decisive yet they are so mild and beneficent in operation as to be suitable to children as well as to adults.

HOW A WOMAN POSTS A LETTER

Any day when you have time you can see how she does it by dropping into the Post-office. She arrives there with the letter in her hand. It is a sheet of note enclosed in a white envelope. She halts in front of the stamp window, opens her mouth to ask for a stamp, but suddenly darts away to look at the letter to see if she made any errors in names or dates. It takes her five minutes to make sure of this, and then she balances the letter on her finger, and the awful query arises in her mind: "Perhaps it is overweight?" She steps to the window and asks the clerk if he has a three cent stamp, fearing that he hasn't, and she looks over every compartment of her porte monnaie before she finds the change to pay for it.

The fun begins as she gets the stamp. She sidles around to one side, removes her glove, closely inspects the stamp and hesitates whether to "lick" it on or wet her finger. She finally concludes that it wouldn't be nice to show her tongue, and she wets her finger and passes it over the envelope. She is so long picking up the stamp that the moisture is absorbed, and the stamp slides off the envelope. She tries it twice more with the same success, and then, getting desperate, she gives the stamp a "lick" and it sticks. Then comes the sealing of the letter. She wets her finger again, but the envelope flies open, and after five minutes' delay she has to pass her tongue along the streak of dried mucilage. She holds the letter a long time to make sure that the envelope is all right, and finally appears at the window and asks:

"Three cents is enough, is it?" "Yes ma'am."

"And this will go out to day?" "Certainly."

"Will it go to [illegible] without the name of the county on?" "Just the same."

"What time will it reach there?" "To-morrow morning."

She sighs, turns the letter over and over and finally asks, "Shall I drop it into one of those places there?" "Yes, ma'am."

She walks up in front of the six orifices through which letters fall upon the table, closely scans each one of them, finally makes a choice, and drops—no, she doesn't. She stops to see where it will fall, pressing her face against the window until she flattens her nose out of shape, and she doesn't drop it into the place she meant to. She, however, releases it at last, looks down to make sure that it did not fall on the floor, and turns away with a sigh of regret that she did not take one more look at the superscription.—Detroit Free Press.

HOW TO ATTRACT CUSTOM TO A RESTAURANT.

The following excellent joke is going the rounds of the Berlin newspapers at present:

A young confectioner, of that place, having, like many other business men at present, to complain of hard times, boldly resolved to get married, whether in spite, or perhaps because of, the poor sales of his meringues and tartes, partly because she on whom he had cast an eye was indeed a pretty maid, as well as that she commanded some wealth. She was the daughter of a master baker in a little town in the suburbs. As is generally the case, the two little folks were agreed. But papa had not yet given his consent, and wanted first to see whether the business of the future son-in-law was prosperous. He thought he would convince himself of this state of facts, and appointed some afternoon when he would pay a visit to our young confectioner, at his saloon, and there count how many cups of coffee, chocolate, etc, etc, were called for, and how many puff pastes and marengoes were consumed.

The confectioner well understood that many an afternoon he alone could drink more coffee than all his customers. Not knowing what to do, he consulted with one of his standing customers, who always knew how to devise ways and means for any emergency. But how great was his surprise when the other, with a smile on his countenance, informed him that it would be no difficult task to fill his entire room with customers. "Be of good cheer," he said to him, "let your future father-in-law come on—I will attend to the rest." The afternoon so much feared finally came, and behold! here too came the baker, accompanied by his wife, and ate and drank heartily. When observing the stirring business of him who it was now settled was the accepted son-in-law, every doubt in the mind of the baker vanished. He departed fully satisfied.

But the young confectioner to his great astonishment, noticed that nearly all the customers, whether ladies or gentlemen, seemed to go away disappointed. Quietly smiling to himself, the customer, flushed with victory, asked the young candidate for conjugal life: "Sir, do you know, young man, how I managed to fill your saloon? I answered all the different advertisements for marriages, all the personals for rendezvous as young man, young lady, widow, or anything you please, assigning them to meet me at your confectionery establishment. Did you not notice that each and every one, whether lady or gentleman, bore a flower, or some other mark of distinction? I wrote more than eighty letters in your behalf."

DANIEL IN THE HANDS OF A QUAKER.—Nantucket people enjoy a reputation for smartness, and even Daniel Webster found his match there. The story as told by Webster himself, is as follows:

The court held a term on the island periodically. There wasn't much litigation, but the suits were heavy, relating to ships, whale-fishing and oil. The Judges and lawyers usually went over from the continent and spent a week or ten days, and finished the business of the season. One day one of the Friends of the island called at my office in Boston, and said:

"Friend Daniel, what wilt thou ask to come down to Nantucket and plead a case for me before the Judges?"

"I will go for $1,000."

"That is too much, friend Daniel."

"But I'll have to go down on Saturday, and perhaps remain the whole week following. I would as soon argue the whole docket."

"Well, friend Daniel, if thee will argue such cases as I will present to thee before my case is called, I will give thee a thousand dollars." So the bargain was struck.

My client went to Nantucket and found his case at the foot of the docket. He went from man to man and saw all who had any case on the docket and said, "What will thee give if I get the great Daniel Webster to plead thy case?" He took retainers from a dozen men. Some gave him a hundred dollars and some five hundred dollars. He had grace enough to give me the thousand dollars agreed and paid my expenses in the bargain. I argued the docket right through, for plaintiff and defendant, until I reached my client's case. He struck the balance and admitted, as the steamer left the wharf, that he had got his case argued and pocketed fifteen hundred dollars besides.

FRENCH JOKES.—Funny trial at Marseilles. Charlois drove his donkey in the street as the Fourth regiment of Chasseurs marched by. He said: "There are the fellows who surrendered at Sedan." He was arrested. His defense in court was that he named his donkey Badinguet, "the Surrenderer of Sedan," and that in the alleged words he was only talking to his donkey, and that a man had a right to talk to his donkey. For this precious privilege he was however compelled to pay fifty francs.

General business matters have a very [illegible] ing aspect of activity just at present and yet there seems to be a sort of backwardness in some departments which is not easily accounted for. This is especially true of financial affairs for with a very fair supply of available funds in the market there is less than the usual demand and with the rates of discounts at a low standard for this locality there seems but little disposition to borrow for any outside investments. Were there any profitable means of employing it a large amount of money could be obtained on terms which one or two years ago would have been thought exceedingly low for any part of the coast, but since the spirit of speculation seems to have died out in our community the volume of business, although proportionately limited, has been upon a safer and more permanent basis than ever before. But though fortunes are not now made in a day they are not so frequently lost in an hour.

Grain and Provision Reports.

Chicago elevators at the commencement of business Monday January 25th contained 071 [illegible] bushels of wheat 1 560 681 bushels of corn [illegible] bushels of oats 1[illegible] bushels of rye and 262 6[illegible] bushels of barley making a grand total of [illegible]469 567 bushels against 6 108 816 bushels one week previous and [illegible] bushels at the same period last year.

The amount of grain on board vessels in the Chicago harbor is 130 [illegible] bushels of wheat and 98,007 bushels of corn.

The stock of mess pork in Chicago on Saturday last was 146 066 bushels and the stock of lard at the same time was 41 600 tierces.

Milwaukee warehouses at the close of business on Saturday, January 23d contained 1 [illegible]6 772 bushels of wheat [illegible] bushels of corn 70 [illegible] bushels of oats 11,11[illegible] bushels of rye 129 000 bushels of barley [illegible] 636 bushels of malt.

Below will be found amount of grain in sight in the States and Canada January 16 187[illegible]. Wheat 11,91[illegible] bushels corn 4,902 115 bushels, oats [illegible] bushels barley [illegible] 011 [illegible] bushels.

The exports from the leading seaboard ports during the week ending January 28th include 3 001 barrels of pork [illegible] pounds of lard [illegible] 475 000 pounds of bacon 46 6[illegible] barrels of flour [illegible] 000 bushels of wheat, 60,000 bushels of corn.

The wheat exports of California during the year 1874 were 264 410 tons, of which 1[illegible] tons were shipped to Liverpool, 80,885 tons to Cork [illegible] tons to Dublin 2 114 tons to London, 1,[illegible] tons to Falmouth and 1 501 tons to Havre.

A late New York dispatch says all grades of bread stuffs are lower and gradually accumulating from day to day and the stock now on hand will probably reach 800 000 bbls. This is a very large supply for this season of the year, and some time will elapse before it can be reduced to any great extent. The absence of any export demand is the main cause for the heavy tone that has pervaded the market.

Produce Market.

There are no further developments in this one worthy of special comment. A rumor was abroad on the street this afternoon that the Liverpool wheat market had again declined, and the fear is that no one will be able to realize anything on shipments which are now held for sale in that market. Several cargoes from Oregon are now about due in English ports and some of them as we learn are unsold. Prices here have not changed as there are no transactions to even establish quotations, the last purchases reported having been made at $1 77½ per cental with several prominent shippers out of the market at anything over $1 7[illegible]. In oats there is no change, fair lots in sacks being in good request at 60 cents per bushel. Potatoes and fruits are in better supply and prices weaker than at our last report the damage by the late freeze having been less than was anticipated. Butter good quality is scarce and commands a fancy price if extra. Poultry and eggs are coming forward freely and with but little increased demand are quotable weaker.

Exports.

February 10th per steamer Oriflamme for San Francisco carrying hence the following quantities of freight: Ten cases boots 13 bags potatoes 2 [illegible] cases China wine 1 074 Chinese baskets, 1 208 sacks flour 10 kegs lard 50 tons pig iron 10 barrels cider 31 cases pickled beef, 131 cases bacon 614 bags oats 141 cases merchandise 260 boxes fruit 502 bales dry and green hides furs etc 181 barrels salmon 7 half barrels do 8 tierces do. Total 760 tons.

February 10th per steamer California for Sitka and way ports. She carried away 400 tons of cargo consisting of flour bacon beans potatoes onions, oats dried and green fruit, groceries provisions merchandise etc.

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamship Oriflamme sailed for San Francisco at 4 P. M.

The steamship California sailed at 1 P. M. to day for Sitka and intermediate ports.

Their effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organ into action and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skillful physicians, most eminent clergymen and our best citizens send certificates of cures performed and of great benefit they have derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated they are easy to take and being purely vegetable they are entirely harmless.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

FOR THE SPEEDY RELIEF OF

Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

Has been widely used during the last twenty five years in the treatment of these distressing diseases and with such unvarying success that it has gained the reputation of being infallible. The shakes, or chills once broken by it do not return until the disease is contracted again. This has made it an accepted remedy and trusted specific for the Fever and Ague of the West and the Chills and Fever of the South.

Ayer's Ague Cure eradicates the noxious poison from the system and leaves the patient as well as before the attack. It thoroughly expels the disease so that no Liver Complaints, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Dysentery or Debility follow the cure. Indeed where Disorders of the Liver and Bowels have occurred from Miasmatic Poison it removes the cause of them and they disappear. Not only is it an effectual cure but if taken occasionally by patients exposed to malaria it will expel the poison and protect them from attack. Travelers and temporary residents in Fever and Ague localities are thus enabled to defy the disease. The General Debility which is so apt to ensue from continued exposure to Malaria and Miasm has no speedier remedy.

For Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy.

CHICAGO, Feb 11.—The Tribune's Washington special says the joint Republican caucus committee has completed the political bill which has [illegible] in course of preparation for some time. The points of the bill which will be presented to the Senate and House caucus respectively are as follows:

First—Re enacting [illegible] of the fourth section of the Ku Klux act which allows the President to suspend the writ of habeas corpus in certain cases and gives him full power to use the army to suppress and maintain peace.

Second—The appointment of deputy U. S. marshals and supervisors of election with full power to conduct elections count ballots supervise returns and arrest persons who [illegible] to intimidate voters or unlawfully interfere with the conduct of elections.

Fourth—To provide for a full and fair registration of legal voters and to make it unlawful for any of the reconstructed States to impose excessive poll tax or require payment of such tax as a qualification for voting at any congressional election.

Fifth—Declaring the exhibition or use of deadly weapons on days of registration or election for the purpose of intimidation or violence a criminal offense, punishable by fine or imprisonment at the discretion of the court.

The bill it is said received the unanimous vote of the joint committee.

The Union Pacific Proposes a Compromise with the Government.

The Union Pacific R. R. Co yesterday through its President Sydney Dillon submitted to the Secretary of the Treasury a formal proposition of compromise of all existing differences between the company and the government. The proposition is prefaced with an expression of profound regret of its directors at the existing difficulty between the government and the company and the wish of the latter to do everything in their power to reimburse the government as far as it can and as speedily as may be, every dollar advanced from the national treasury. The company also express a keen sense of the disadvantage they incur both in the popular esteem and pecuniarily by being in conflict with so great a benefactor the general government and their desire to establish such relations of mutual trust and confidence as will best secure the best interests of the government and at the same time promote the prosperity of the company. The proposition is as follows: The Union Pacific Railroad Company propose to pay into the treasury of the United States $[illegible]00 000 per annum on each first day of July beginning with 1875 and to continue the payment for twenty years and thereafter on each first day of July the payment shall be $750 [illegible] until the money so paid shall be held by the Secretary of the Treasury as a sinking fund to the [illegible]
